Golfers Begin to Gather on Links at Manchester

Mrs. John L. Given and Children Arrive at the Resort.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

MANCHESTER, Vt., June 17. WITH the opening of the Equinox House a week ago the summer season is well under way. Already dinner parties and other social gatherings are in order. Mrs. W. M. Ritter entertained Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Bradley of New York. Mrs. Horace G. Young of Albany and Mrs. Charles Francis of Troy over last Sunday, giving a dinner for them on Saturday evening, at which the Misses Hoyt of New York and Mrs. Ritter's mother, Mrs. Devine, also were present. Mrs. John Jacob Gunther of New York also gave a dinner for Mrs. Ritter and her guests.

Mrs. John L. Given of New York and children have arrived and opened the Gallies. Mr. Given is on a fishing trip in Canada. The golfing groups are gathering, and every day sees a larger number of players at the Equinox. Recent weather has been favorable for the proper maturing of the course, and it begins to show its usual delightful qualities. Mr. John F. Montgomery, who has been playing at the Equinox since the opening of the course, says that the course is in the best of condition. The annual Equinox Cup tournament will be played during the week beginning July 26. Mr. James L. Taylor of Brooklyn will have charge of the Equinox tournaments, as during recent years.

Riding seems to start off with its usual popularity. On the warm days there has already been a considerable number of bathers out to Equinox Pond. Equinox Mountain will claim the hikers, who also will find many other attractive objectives for hikes. The Manchester Board of Trade is having a map prepared which will serve as a guide to the more interesting places.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Lay and family of Detroit have arrived and are occupying the Smythe cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Lincoln of Washington arrived at Hildene yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Wiggin of New York were at the Equinox House last Sunday, en route to Middlebury for the commencement. Other recent arrivals include: Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Lancaster of Boston, Dr. and Mrs. R. Cotton Smith of Washington, D. C.; Dr. and Mrs. D. C. Brown and Mrs. A. N. Griffin of New York City; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Haddock, Jr., of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Tewksbury of Chicago, Mr. P. D. Dodge, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Spaulding, Mr. R. H. White, Mrs. James Scott, Miss Van Wormer, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin V. Carney, Mrs. Samuel Fleck, Jr. and Miss Amy Fleck of New York.

Surgeons Skilled in Treating Ills 3,000 Years Ago

Delicate Operations, Hitherto Thought Modern, Revealed by Document.

CHICAGO, June 17 (Associated Press).

The restoration of youth to the aged, attempted recently by means of animal glands, was also attempted at least 3,000 years ago, according to Dr. James H. Breasted of the University of Chicago. An "Incantation of Transforming an Old Man Into a Youth of Twenty" is set forth in the Edwin Smith papyrus, the Egyptian document which Dr. Breasted has declared contains unparalleled evidence of advanced knowledge and scientific spirit on the part of Egyptian physicians of 1800 B. C. or earlier.

The incantation, on the contrary, he said, is characterized by reticence on hocus-pocus. Dr. Breasted's theory is that an extraordinary book on surgery and external medicine fell into the hands of a quack who was more interested in charms for making old men young and who had the incongruous texts combined in the same roll. Thus the papyrus magical formulae include an exposition of delicate surgical operations heretofore believed to be decidedly modern.

The handwriting indicates that it was probably written about 1800 B. C. and it was thought to be a copy of a manuscript that is at least a thousand years older. The original may have been written as early as 3400 B. C. It is thought by some of the words which appear in the manuscript and which were long out of vogue in 1800 B. C.

The manuscript also contains "The Incantation of Expelling the Wind of the Year of Pest." This shows the widely prevalent notion which has persisted to the present day that the winds carry malignant plagues. The last two parts of the papyrus are written in a very different handwriting from the front page.

The columns in front treat of the head, the mouth, the neck and the spine. Here the papyrus stops, but it is evident that the remainder treated the lower body. The first group of ten cases described treat of wounds of the head, of which seven are knife and sword wounds. The surgeon is instructed how to probe the wound and in case of a severe knife wound told, "You should have made for him a wooden brace padded with linen (and have) the head fastened to it. His treatment should be sitting, placed between two supports of brick, until you know whether he is making any progress."

Beverly Season Opens With Bunker Hill Celebration

Mr. and Mrs. Payne Whitney Again to Be at Prides Crossing—Many Arrivals at Cottages on the North Shore.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

BEVERLY, MASS., July 17.

THE season on the picturesque North Shore of Massachusetts may be said to have opened to-day with the holiday, for as such the anniversary of Bunker Hill is observed all along the shore. The larger hotels opened to-day and many colonists have arrived at their cottages. There is promise of a lively summer with social activities as well as in the out of door life. The Essex County Myopia and Montserrat clubs are busy with their golf and tennis programs. The Myopia Club received the interesting announcement this week that the Montreal Polo Club would come to Hamilton for a tournament in July. Preparations also already are being made at Marblehead for the annual visit of the New York Yacht Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Payne Whitney of New York will be at Prides Crossing again this summer, where they have taken the Russell cottage. Mr. Harold S. Vanderbilt is expected to spend July and August at Prides Crossing as he did last season. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Erdmann of New York have arrived at Manchester, where they have taken the Coolidge homestead at Coolidge Point.

Mrs. E. T. Witham of New York City and also Miss Kathleen Freeman have been at the Eagles at Marblehead. Mrs. James C. Farrell of Albany is at her cottage, Felsenmeer, at Gloucester. Mrs. Charles H. Tweed and her daughter, Miss Mary Tweed, of New York City are at Marblehead, where they have taken a cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. McGinley of New York City have taken their home at Gales Point at Manchester. Mr. and Mrs. Umberto Colletti of Rome, Italy, are expected next week at Gales Point to be with their parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. Henry Lancashire of New York City. Miss Lila Lancashire of New York also will arrive the first of the month.

William Phillips, wife of the Under Secretary of State, and family are at Hildover, their North Beverly home.

Sulgrave Chairman Welcomes Women in New Committee

Plans Are Formed for Entertainment of British Delegation Here.

AT a luncheon held at the Lawyers Club last Wednesday Mr. John A. Stewart, chairman of the board of directors of the Sulgrave Institution, welcomed the chairman of the newly formed women's committee, Miss Amelia Day Campbell, and her associates to the American branch of the organization. Plans were formulated for entertaining the British delegation which is to visit the United States and make a tour of places of historic interest in the autumn.

All the members of the new committee were present and a number of them were appointed to chairmanships, including Miss Ethel Arms, who is chairman of the Women's Committee's executive group; Miss Borrow, secretary of the Colonial Dames of America; Miss Ethel Boyd Bowers, Mrs. Juan Ceballos, Mrs. Alfred W. Cochran, Mr. Frederick L. Eldridge, who was made chairman of the Automobile Committee; Mrs. Hamilton R. Fairfax, president of the Colonial Dames of the State of New York; and Mrs. W. C. Wright, president of the American branch of the organization.
